SATURDAY, JUNE 13, 1841.

OFFICIAL DOCUMENTS.

We are indebted to the New York Herald for the following brief abstract of the Reports of the Secretary of War, Secretary of the Navy, and Postmaster General.

WAR REPORT.

The Secretary of War says that there has been no material change in the general condition and disposition of the army, since the last annual report. The Florida war is reviewed briefly, and the number of Indians who have surrendered themselves, and have departed to the West, under the negotiations, is four hundred and thirty-one, including one hundred warriors. The Secretary fears that the complete removal will not be effected without further sacrifice, as the most powerful chief has not been reached, nor any of his followers. Orders have been issued for the prosecution of vigorous measures, and no negotiation shall prove useless.

The sum required to place the fortifications of the country in what is denominated a good state of defense, is $12,180,547. $9,03,547 will be required for the fortifications, and the rest for armament. $1,435,500 may be judiciously expended during the present year, in addition to appropriations already outstanding. The argument that improvements in the art of war will render present plans inoperative, is answered by reasoning that we should not neglect present means, in view of future contingencies. The works on Staten Island, surrendered to the general government by the State of N. York, are in progress of active repair, and the promptness with which they were given up to the government is a source of due thanks of the country, and an immediate appropriation to perfect them.

Irregularities of the Indian department are complained of. It has been the practice to make payments from moneys appropriated, without regarding the specific direction of the appropriation act. Another matter of complaint is, that instead of letting unexpended appropriations remain in Treasury to revert back to it, according to law, they have been drawn out, and put into the hands of disbursing agents, who have used them for purposes for which no appropriations had been made. Another irregularity has been the loaning large sums by Indian disbursing agents to other departments of the Government, or to other and distinct branches of the Indian department. By these means, the Indian accounts have been put in such confusion that annual settlements have been impossible. Nor is it possible exactly to ascertain the precise amount of appropriation required to settle the accounts. So far, $200,000 is ascertained to be necessary, and it is thought that $300,000 more will be.

The change in the policy of managing the armories, placing them under military instead of civil direction, works well; but time has not yet elapsed sufficient to test its advantages. Additional appropriations to the amount of $35,637 are required for the pay and quarter masters' departments. $30,997 is also required to pay laborers on suspended works, the expense of which have exceeded the estimates, an excess for which the operatives are not responsible.

Great frauds have been discovered among the Indian agents, and contractors for removal at the South West, but the investigation is yet unfinished, and the precise point of responsibility among the officers not yet ascertained.

THE NAVY.

The appropriations made at the last session for this service, will be sufficient, unless a larger basis of operations than the present should be decided on.

The Navy Pension fund requires an immediate appropriation of $135,666.

The return of the Brandwine from the Mediterranean is explained officially in the same manner that it has been unofficially.

The establishment of a home squadron is strongly urged, and provision of a suitable supply of men and naval stores.

The Secretary concurs in the general opinion that a new organization of the Navy is necessary, but before the particulars of the plan he intends to present until the next regular session.

THE POST OFFICE.

The estimated deficit of the department for old debts is over half a million. The ascertained deficiency is $24,049. It remains for Congress to determine whether this shall at once be removed, or whether the department shall struggle on, devolving its receipts to the partial payment of old debts.

The receipt for the quarter ending March 31, presents a decrease of almost six per cent.

Rail Road companies in some instances charge two hundred per cent. higher than is charged for coach services. This has imposed upon the Postmaster the necessity of suspending their contracts.

The discontinuance of one mail on many routes the Sunday mail adopted by the late Postmaster for the purpose of economy, has been continued by the present; for the same reason to aid in bringing the expenses of the service within its receipt.

The new building for the General Post Office will be completed before the next regular session.

CONGRESS.

ANOTHER FLOURISH BETWEEN MR. ADAMS AND J. R. — 182.

(Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.)

WASHINGTON CITY, June 7, 1841.

In the Senate, after the disposal of some preliminary business, Mr. Clay offered a resolution calling upon the Majority of the two branches for such a plan of fiscal agent as would be without any constitutional objection.

Mr. Clay, Calhoun, Wright, and others, gave their views on the propriety of such a resolution, after which, the question being put, the resolution was agreed to.

The next business in order was the bill reported from the Finance Committee on Saturday, providing for a resumption of the independent Treasury law.

A long debate arose, which had not terminated at the time this was closed.

The House of Representatives met at eleven this morning, and the first business in order was the resolution of Mr. Wise in relation to the rules. Mr. Adams — as entitled to the floor on the subject — interposed by his rule, which was overruled, to rescind the Statute, which prohibited the — of pieces of petitions relating in any way to the abolition of slavery.

Mr. Adams' motion to refer to the Senate, on which some very strong and pointed speech had been made, was carried, and the bill was referred to the Select Committee on Finance.

Mr. Adams' motion to rescind the Statute, which had been carried in the House, was carried, and the bill was referred to the Select Committee on Finance.

Mr. Adams then at great length, replied to the speeches made in favor of the Statute last week, and denounced it as an execrable instrument of tyranny, which in its spirit trampled upon the rights of the people of the United States. He repeated that the effect of the rule was to reject nine tenths of all petitions coming from the north, while all coming from the south were received. He affirmed that it was a question between the north and the south, and in which the latter might oppose the former.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. A. alluded to the "Conservatives," by whose assistance he maintained the Rule had been adopted. He said at the time, those gentlemen were so numerous that an omnibus would not hold them, but now "who would contain them all. He wished to know where the poor gentlemen had all gone to.

After speaking for some hours in favor of rescinding the Rule, Mr. A. lowered his voice, as if he were about concluding. On this, about a score of members jumped up and exclaimed, "Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Adams asked the gentlemen to have the goodness to wait till he had done. This attempt to get the floor by so many, caused great disorder. Mr. A. then proceeded, but had not spoken more than a dozen words, before another member, thinking Mr. A. had at last concluded, sprang upon his feet and shouted, "Mr. Speaker!"

Mr. Adams begged to be heard out, and hoped that until then the gentlemen would keep their seats. The laughter was here renewed, and lasted some time.

After Mr. A. had concluded, Mr. Butler King, of Georgia, took the floor, and replied at great length. The principal parts of his speech were, that Congress had no right to abolish slavery in the District, that the course pursued by Mr. Adams and his associates were calculated to dissolve the Union, and that Congress had no right to receive petitions, the passage of which it could not satisfactorily do.

Mr. Fillmore, of New York, thinking time enough had been wasted, moved the previous question, which was seconded. The question was then taken on the amendment of Mr. Adams, (proposing to rescind the Statute,) and it was carried. Yeas 112, nays 104.

The question then recurring on the original resolution of Mr. Wise, as amended, "providing that all the rules and orders of the last House, shall be observed by the present House, until a committee shall appoint other rules."

Mr. Wise said the vote last given would compel him to move to lay his own resolution on the table, as he was satisfied that the flood of abolition petitions would be so great that the business for which Congress had been called together, could not be transacted.

PHRASOLOGY. This science, for such it unquestionably is, will be ably treated of this evening by gentlemen who understand it. The lecture will be free, and those who believe in the science will undoubtedly enjoy a rich treat. Those who are in doubt in regard to it, may obtain sufficient light to convince them, and have opened before them the delightful subject of contemplation and study.

Our citizens should turn out to the meeting, and understand this whole matter for themselves. We ought to advise those who are determined never to believe in the science to stay at home, for if they go, their resolution will be completely upset, and they will become believers in spite of themselves!

We have received a communication from Mr. F. Harris, Superintendent of the Oldtown Railroad, designed to correct an error in our statement relative to the accident which occurred on the road, viz: that several of the passengers were slightly bruised. Mr. Harris was in the train running to Oldtown, and states that Mr. Johnson, the Engineer, was considerably bruised, but not so much injured as was at first supposed, and may yet get over it in a few days. The Fireman was but slightly hurt, and that he has no reason to think that any one else was hurt at all.

Our information was obtained from a passenger who we have the best reason in the world to know was slightly bruised, as we saw the bruise with our own eyes. None of the passengers were seriously hurt.

Mr. Benjamin Higgins, late mate of the schooner Wellington, who was lately bound over to appear at the Municipal Court, on a charge of kidnapping, as stated in our paper a few days since, has been discharged from custody; the Grand Jury refusing to find a bill of indictment against him.

The President's message was issued in extra in Albany immediately on its arrival there, arrangements having been made to put it in type on board of the steamboats.

A Female Orator in the New Hampshire Legislature. In the New Hampshire Legislature on Monday last, soon after the House was called to order, Miss Abigail Folsom of Rochester, N. H. rose in the gallery and addressed the Speaker, in a loud and distinct voice, as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I have come here with a message from God. I come to warn you against the appointment of select committees, to legislate for the people, for they are not of God, and cannot stand."

The Speaker here interposed and ruled her out of order. She declared that until God ruled her out of order she should speak, and continued her remarks until she was forcibly borne out of the House by the doorkeepers.

According to the Report of the Secretary of War, there appears to be no prospect of immediately terminating the Florida war, without further hostilities.

A long debate arose, which had not terminated at the time this was closed.

The House of Representatives met at eleven this morning, and the first business in order was the resolution of Mr. Wise in relation to the rules. Adams's Venus Water.

THE Reward, like the Painting Restoratives, the grand product!!! The subscriber informs the public that after FOURTEEN YEARS of study, ten of which have been years of intense labor and difficulty, he has discovered the only true remedy against the loss, the sovereign restorative in case of deficiency, and the grand producer of that most beautiful ornament of the human body, "HUMAN HAIR!"

That may be known that this Venus Water is an invaluable article. I will state that in the first years of my labors upon it, its application to the head for two consecutive seasons, was necessary in order to establish a good growth of hair, but only one season is required so successful have been my improvements upon it! And I have the proud satisfaction of knowing that in the City of Bangor alone, two hundred and sixty six heads which were once bald, can, by the heavy growth of hair upon them, bear witness to the wonderful effects which this Venus Water has produced within eighteen months!

I will add, a few of the certificates almost innumerable, which have been given me by individuals who have derived benefit from this Water.

H. T. D. ADAMS: Having availed myself of the extraordinary benefits of your Venus Water, I feel it my duty to the public, as well as to your self, to submit for their perusal, a plain statement of the facts in my case. I had been entirely bald for seven years, and had lost my eyebrows, during which time I tried the remedies of three physicians without any benefit.

In reading over the advertisement of your celebrated Venus Water, I concluded to try it, and now am the proprietor of a fine head of hair and a beautiful pair of eyebrows.

MISS ELIZA WORTHINGTON.

Bangor, May 8, 1841.

This is to certify, that I have used Mr. Adams's Venus Water for baldness of the head, and that it has restored me a good head of hair, where before using it the hair was entirely gone. I also have used other medicines which have started the hair, but it would come out again. But the Venus Water has restored it so that it is strong and strong, and in before I lost it. And to all those who are troubled with baldness, I would say be sure and cast on Thomas D. Adams, and try it immediately, and you will have your hair growing again forthwith.

ARTEMAS J. EGERTON.

Bangor, May 14, 1841.

This may certify, that for the last six months I have used T. D. Adams's Venus Water, and have the satisfaction to say that the top of my head, which for a long time was bald, is now entirely covered with a good growth of hair.

EDMUND HOLT.

Bangor, February 20, 1841.

I hereby certify that for the last two or three years my head has been bald, and that during that period I have used a great number of applications recommended for their efficacy in restoring the hair, from which I have never received any benefit, some even having proved injurious, until the past summer, I made use of Thomas D. Adams's Venus Water, which has entirely exceeded my expectations, and covered my head with a strong growth of hair.

HANNAH PALMER.

Bangor, May 15, 1841.

This may certify that the hair upon the top of my head, being nearly gone, and the remainder fast dropping off daily, was induced by Mr. T. D. Adams, to try his Venus Water, and during the last year he has made frequent applications of it to my head. I have now a considerable growth of new hair, produced I suppose, by the use of his remedy.

E. HARRIS.

Bangor, Feb. 3, 1841.

This may certify that I called on Mr. T. D. Adams in May, 1836. I used his Venus Water for three months and it has produced as much hair as I wish to have on my head.

Bangor, Sept. 1837.

NANCY SMITH.

This may certify that my head was entirely bald, and by the use of T. D. Adams's Venus Water for three months my hair has been restored.

Bangor, Feb. 16, 1841.

CALB B. HOLMES.

I have used Mr. Adams's Venus Water, for the growth of the hair for about six months, and am happy to say that it has answered every purpose in producing a good head of hair, and prevent the hair from coming out by combing.

Bangor, Feb. 8, 1841.

MARY JONES.

This may certify that for the last six months I have used Adams's Venus Water, and have the satisfaction to say that the top of my head, which for a long time was bald, is now entirely covered with a good growth of hair.

Bangor, Feb. 18, 1841.

W. M. FROST.

This may certify that for the last twenty years (as far as my head has been used), but never is well covered with a good growth of hair. I used the Venus Water for four months.

Bangor, Feb. 18, 1841.

E. R. WARREN.

This certifies that I have used a preparation made by Mr. Adams of this city, to restore hair to the head, after it had fallen off, and having done so, I am glad to inform it, would cheerfully recommend it to others.

Bangor, Feb. 16, 1841.

A. HOLTON.

For the last six months I have used the preparation for sale by the proprietor of the Post Office in this city. I have a good growth of hair, and the proprietors of the Post Office in this city.

STATE OF MAINE.

THE TREASURER'S OFFICE.

August, 1841.

WHEREAS an Act, entitled an Act, relative to the collection of State Taxes, and expenses made by County Commissioners, passed February 17, 1835, provides that whenever a State Tax has been lawfully assessed on any Township or tract of land, not taxable by the Assessors of any town or plantation, the Treasurer of the State shall within three months from the assessment by the Legislature and publication of the paper of the printer to the State, and in some newspaper printed in the County where such land may lie, if such newspaper there be, therein notify all persons interested in such lands, that the same are held and encumbered by the State for the payment of the assessment thereon, and for the repayment of all such sums as the State may have paid to discharge any taxes or rates assessed by County Commissioners; And that if any Tax is due upon any Township or tract of land which shall have been so lawfully assessed together with the interest, at the rate of twenty per cent, per annum, to be computed from the expiration of one year from the date of the Act of assessment, shall not have been paid into the State ready for the space of four years next after the passing the Act of assessment, then the said Township or tract together with the interest required thereon aforementioned, shall not have been paid into the State Treasury within four years from the date of credit to said County Treasurer on the State's Books as aforesaid, then the same in such case shall be wholly forfeited and revert to the State, free and quiet from all claims by any former owner or owners, and the same shall be held and owned by the State by title perfect and indefeasible. And whereas an Act entitled an Act to ascertain and assess upon the inhabitants of this State a Tax of two hundred and one thousand six hundred eighty three dollars and 77 cents, passed April 17, 1841, provides that the townships and other tracts of land included in the following schedule shall be assessed and pay the several sums with which they respectively stand charged in said schedule.

Therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of said Act, the proprietors and all other persons interested in the townships and other tracts of unimproved land described in said schedule, are hereby notified that unless the Taxes for the year 1841, assessed according thereto, are paid within one year, the Tax of the Act of assessment, said taxes will then be subject to interest at the rate of twenty per cent, per annum, and if not paid together with the interest as aforesaid within four years from the date of the Act of assessment aforesaid, then said townships and other tracts of land will be wholly forfeited to the State.
